NO SPECIAL PROTECTION FOR GERMAN SUBMARINE

Deutschland Must Take Same Chances as Ordinary Merchantman, State Department Rules.

Washington, July 29.—Special protection for the German merchant submarine Deutschland when she starts out of American territorial waters was asked of the American government late today with the intimation that the boat would leave Baltimore some time tomorrow. After conferences by state, treasury and naval department officials, it was ruled that no extraordinary precautions could be ordered, because the United States views the Deutschland as an ordinary merchantman.

It is understood that the application for protection was made through the collector of customs at Baltimore and that Capt. Koenig, the submarine commander, desired a coast guard cutter or naval vessel to escort him down Chesapeake bay and to the three mile limit. Unless steps are taken to prevent it, the submarine probably will be followed out by a fleet of small craft carrying newspaper correspondents, photographers and sightseers. It is said, too, that the Germans fear some British merchant ship might go to sea in the wake of the Deutschland, advertising her presence to the allied cruisers waiting off the Virginia capes or even attempting to ram her as soon as she left American territorial waters.

Officials of the state department held that while American neutrality must be fully safeguarded, it would be a bad precedent for the government to convoy or accord any other unusual attention to a vessel which can be rated only as a merchantman. Precautions already have been taken to see that the submarine is not molested within the three mile limit. Since the reported incursion of a British cruiser in the Virginia capes last week, the armored cruiser North Carolina and three destroyers have been patrolling off Cape Henry.

PREPARES TO LEAVE.

Submarine Expected to Start on Her Perilous Voyage.

Baltimore, July 29.—The German submarine sea freighter, Deutschland, which arrived at this port from Germany three weeks ago tomorrow night with a cargo of dyestuffs, lay snugly in her barricaded berth at Locust Point tonight ready to start on her perilous homeward voyage. The tug Thomas F. Timmins, which met the Deutschland at the Virginia capes and conveyed her to Baltimore, was close by with steam up.

Officials of the Eastern Forwarding company, the submarine agents, refused to comment on the Washington dispatch sent out today concerning the probability of her sailing tomorrow. That they are concerned about the boat's safety during her run down Chesapeake bay seemed to be indicated in a report, regarded as reliable, that it is planned to have a second tug accompany the submarine and the Timmins as far as the capes to guard against the possibility of "accidents" en route.

One of the Deutschland's navigating officers and several of the crew were on shore leave tonight with orders it was said, to return aboard ship by midnight.

MINNAUGH'S

Big mid summer sale is still on in full blast and the wind has gone down into the prices and they have been slashed some more. Now is the time to buy seasonable and unseasonable goods at such reduced prices that it will pay you to make an investment of a few dollars whether you have immediate use for the goods or not.

Great Vacation Time.

WEDNESDAY AUGUST 3. There will be a barbecue at Fairview school house on Wednesday, August 3. It will be given by John A. Nichols, A. H. Ham and E. T. Garret.

BARBECUE AND CAMPAIGN DAY AT POMARIA TODAY

The regular meeting of the county candidates will be held at Pomaria today, Tuesday. Mr. Walter Richardson will furnish the barbecue and it will be a good one. The meeting will be held in the park and a large crowd is expected to be present. The meeting will open at 10:30 o'clock and the first speakers at this meeting will be the candidates for county superintendent of education and they will be followed by the candidates for the legislature and then the candidates for the senate.

THE GOOD EFFECTS OF DRAGGING THE ROADS

To drag the roads while it continues to rain may seem fruitless so far as helping travel over the roads is concerned but let us look at the road from another angle. Suppose the roads are not dragged then the ruts will grow deeper and deeper, the water stands in them so that great mud holes are formed in places which soon become almost if not quite impassable. In the meantime the water, by standing in the road through want of proper drainage begins to stretch out into hundreds of yards and then into miles of muddy roads.

Now let's see the effect of dragging. Let the dragging take place between showers and close the ruts; then the water will run off to the side ditches instead of standing and soaking in to the road bed. By this process we have a road that will be hard and almost dry in thirty minutes after each shower and travel over it is not seriously interfered with. Even though it continues to rain, drag the roads, for the labor is not in vain.

For Miss Burton

Miss Gladys White entertained a few friends last night at a delightful informal affair in honor of her guest, Miss Goode Burton of Newberry.—Anderson Intelligencer.

The chaingang is doing some fine work north of Pomaria on roads that were very much needed.

The county campaign meeting at Young's Grove Friday last, seemed more like a state campaign meeting, when the immense size of the crowd is considered.

Supervisor Sample was in town yesterday. He says this is a very busy season with him but assures us that he will do all in his power to rebuild the washed up roads and bridges.

Mr. Shealy of Gilbert, S. C., spent from Saturday until Tuesday with Rev. S. C. Ballentine.

A unique as well as instructive and pleasant affair of last week was the Kitchen party given at Mrs. Dr. Harms on College campus. It was conducted by the "Wear Ever" boys from Wofford college, who are spending the summer in an attempt to revolutionize the science of cooking in Newberry. After the demonstration a "Wear Ever" luncheon was served by girls who expect to use "Wear Ever."

We had the pleasure of motoring to Utopia, Tuesday, in company with Messrs W. B. Dolnest, Jos. W. Alewine and L. C. Troutman. We left Pomaria about 8:30 o'clock. After about three hours of wading in the mud and almost swimming in places especially that of Bush river, where we found the water very high and where only a "John Henry" could wade. We plunged into the water, not knowing whether the car could swim or not, and landed safe on the other side of the stream. At about 11:30 o'clock, we arrived at the handsome country home of Mr. W. I. Herbert, the place for the county campaign meeting. On whooping urging the dogs on to a successful catch of the shy opossum and then the screeching of the owl, causing the boys and girls to turn their pockets wrong side out to make him cease his noise.

A LINE FROM FLORIDA.

After living in Jacksonville, Fla., for three months, I feel I am getting a little acclimated. I find the sun pretty warm during the day and find the nights pleasant and delightful, much to my surprise. There seems to be something in the atmosphere that makes you sleep like a baby. I was discussing it with Bro. W. H. Hiller, our pastor here, and he remarked he was of a nervous temperament and could sleep so well in this climate. We are near the ocean and St. Johns River where we get the breeze from.

It has been very dry down here. The rains have now commenced and we have showers most every day. This sandy land, if properly cultivated and fertilized, produces well.

You will find citizens in this city, from every state in the United States, with usual quota of Chinamen, Greeks, Italians, etc.

This country seems well adapted to stock raising. Since the rainy season, the forest is green with luxuriant grass and the foliage in the swamps, abundant, affording pasture for thousands of cattle and sheep, etc. I was talking with a man who had seven or eight hundred cattle in Marion county, cattle grazing in an open range of many thousand acres of land not fenced. He said he had branded about eighty calves recently. I presume the cattle is only salted occasionally and that is about all expense there is with them. Just think during cold winter months our cows, many of them, huddle on the sunny side of barns or some protection from north winds, with an occasional basket of shucks, while in Florida they have thousands of acres of grazing all winter, using wild violets of desert. The Armour Co. is building a packing plant in this city which will be a great help to stock raising. They can find a market for all of their good stock and ought to get good prices, as steak is retailing here at 25 cents a pound.

This is a prosperous state as are all of our Southern states and in time will be thickly settled and lands very valuable. I saw oranges on trees yesterday between Jacksonville and Pablo Beach. Out in pine land section, the trees looked well. They of course were hanging on from last season's crop. I have seen some fine corn growing around here. There are a good many vegetables, melons, etc., grown also, it seems by experiment. It is found some sections grow finer Irish potatoes than others, also some better adapted to growth of fruits, vegetables, melons, etc.

This city is like many others. It needs a delicious revival by Billy Sunday or some one else. Theatres and moving pictures run in full blast on Sunday, and also excursions up and down the St. Johns River. The beaches are near and railroad fare to them is moderate. Thousands of the working class go and many others. I notice a rule among the business houses, they give Thursday afternoon as holiday and all close up and suspend business, which is a great relief to those who work in offices and stores these long hot days, so many of them being ladies.

My native state, South Carolina, is, nevertheless, one of the best on the map, and for twilight scenes is hard to surpass. We have the rustling of the barley, the turtle dove cooing mournfully for his mate, the song of the milk maid, the old fashioned partridge whistle, "Bob-white," coming across the dew kissed meadows, the young rabbits playing in the shady sandy flats in the public highways, the bulbats soaring aloft, darting almost perpendicular downward, making a peculiar noise and gathering insects for his evening meal, a little later comes the plaintive sound of the chick will, the sound of the huntsman's horn, with an occasional whoop urging the dogs on to a successful catch of the shy opossum and then the screeching of the owl, causing the boys and girls to turn their pockets wrong side out to make him cease his noise.

I realize when you pass the three score and seven mile stone, you live as it were on the past, largely, and your mind wanders on things long past and gone. The shadows are getting long and I will soon cross the River. I cannot truthfully say, "I

Death of Mr. Geo. C. Glasgow.

Death has claimed one of Newberry county's best citizens. The passing of George Cannon Glasgow, at his beautiful country home near Jalapa on Sunday morning at 2 o'clock, marks the end of a useful life. Church and State can ill afford to lose such a man as George Glasgow. A public spirited and law abiding citizen, a faithful and consecrated church member, a devoted father and husband, a man of high character whose word was his bond, honest and generous to his own hurt, glad to grant a favor, always pleasant and congenial among his friends, and if he had troubles he bore them in solitude. Such was the man whose life seemed to give promise of many more years of usefulness and service, but whom his Master saw fit to remove to another world to take up again a more beautiful life in the realms of eternal happiness.

George C. Glasgow died at the age of 54 years in sight of the old home where he was born and which property he still owned. He was the son of Spencer Glasgow and Mattie Cannon Glasgow. He spent his entire life on his plantation near Jalapa.

On November 18, 1891, he was married to Miss Eunice Sligh, daughter of Mr. A. C. Sligh of Dyson. Ten children, five boys and five girls with their widowed mother, survive him. The boys are: Marcus L., who recently enlisted in the army and who was killed from the camp at Styr, when the news of his father's illness reached him; George Cannon, Jr.; Frank Jack; and Spencer, an infant. The girls are: Lois, Mary Lou, Margaret, and Margaret. He is also survived by one brother, Isaac Keller Glasgow of Greenwood.

Mr. Glasgow was a large land owner and a successful farmer and a member of Bush River Baptist church and took an active interest in the work of the church. He was stricken Thursday night and died Sunday morning of high blood pressure.

Funeral service conducted by his Pastor Rev. R. H. Burris was held at his late home Monday morning at 10 o'clock and interment immediately after at Rosemont. The pall bearers were: Active, Hix Connor, W. G. Mays, R. G. Smith, Herbert Wallace, Bachman Derrick, Reeder Brooks, Clarence Smith, Pink Smith, M. L. Spearman, Honorary, R. D. Smith, I. M. Smith, W. F. Ewart, Geo. B. Cromer, W. C. Brown, H. L. Parr, R. G. Wallace, T. H. Pope, J. K. Gilder.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Wood, 502 Davis street died Sunday afternoon and was buried Monday at 11 o'clock in Rosemont cemetery, Rev. Gobe Smith conducted the funeral services.

Mr. Sam Dominick has sold his garage to Mr. H. N. Taylor of the St. Lukes community, N. 9 township. Mr. Taylor will sell Overland cars as Mr. Dominick has given up the agency. Mr. Dominick will continue for some time with the new concern.
